Signature Capture, the innovation that allows businesses to gather, store and access images of all drafts and signatures from credit card, debit card and check transactions is now available to average sized retailers nationwide! Signature capture has been a revolutionary development in credit card processing and United Bank Card is pioneering this movement with their SigCapAccess network, the first and ONLY signature capture network available on this scale.

Manage Receipts with the SigCap Access Network and Reduce Chargeback Costs

It is not uncommon for merchants operating without signature capture to misplace or lose receipts or simply decide to absorb the cost of the chargeback rather than bother with the retrieval process. With signature capture, you can reduce the inefficient and time consuming process of receipt retrieval to a matter of seconds. It also eliminates the need to archive thousands of credit card receipts. Users of this new service will realize a dramatic savings of time and effort when dealing with chargeback and retrieval issues.

How the revolutionary SigCapAccess network works:

1. store receipts with the signature in the terminal
2. transmit the receipts to United Bank Card daily
3. access the signatures on line through a web interface

United Bank Card's chargeback team will also have access to the records, enabling them to handle any chargebacks or retrievals without you having to be involved.

Free Equipment

United Bank Card has revolutionized the credit card industry with our free equipment initiatives! United Bank Card is providing free signature capture pads to every merchant who signs up for our service! This offer is in addition to our free credit card terminal program and the signature capture pad integrates seamlessly with the other free equipment we provide.

Enhance Your Business with a Technological Advantage

United Bank Card's signature capture network represents a unique opportunity to augment your business with advanced technology. The SigCapAccess network will provide you with a technological edge that has previously only been available to large chains. Now you can have the same capabilities and benefits enjoyed by Best Buy®, Macy's™ and Home Depot®!
